

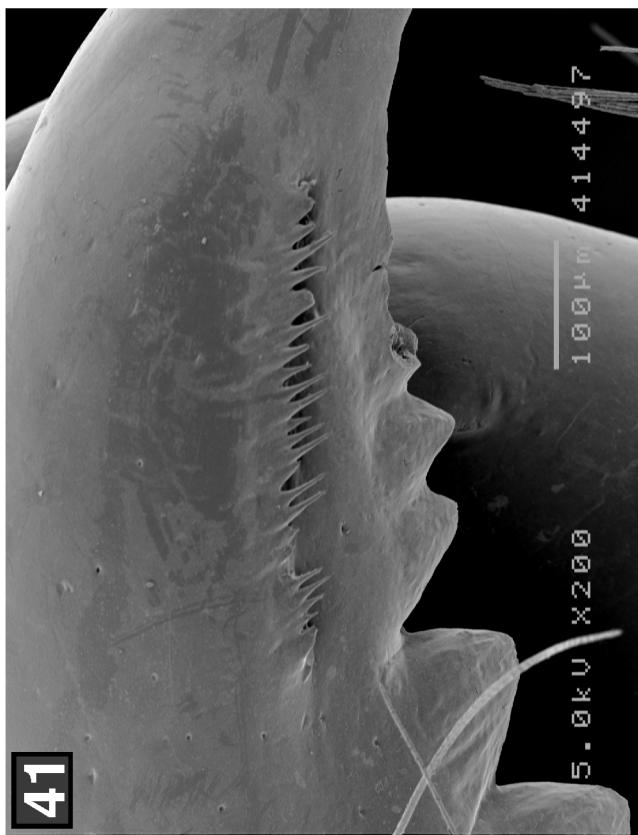

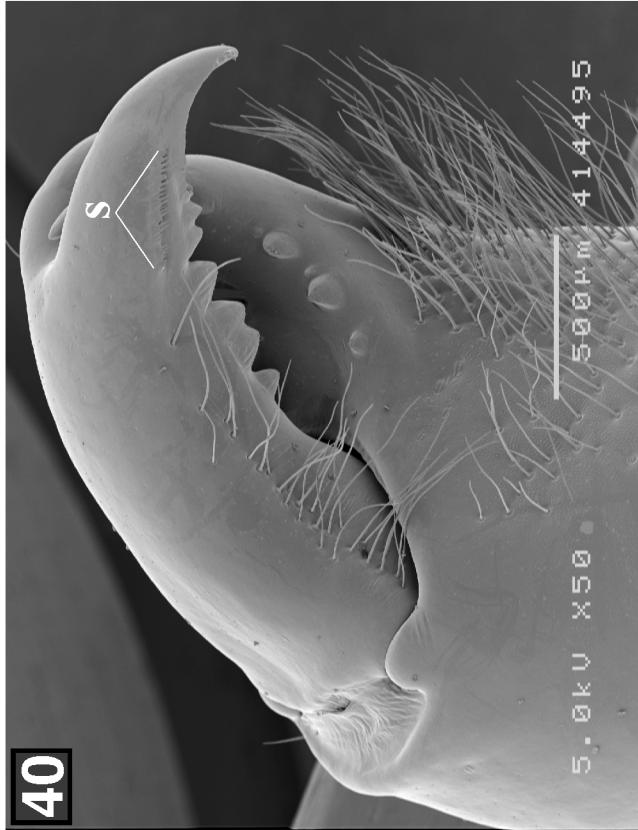

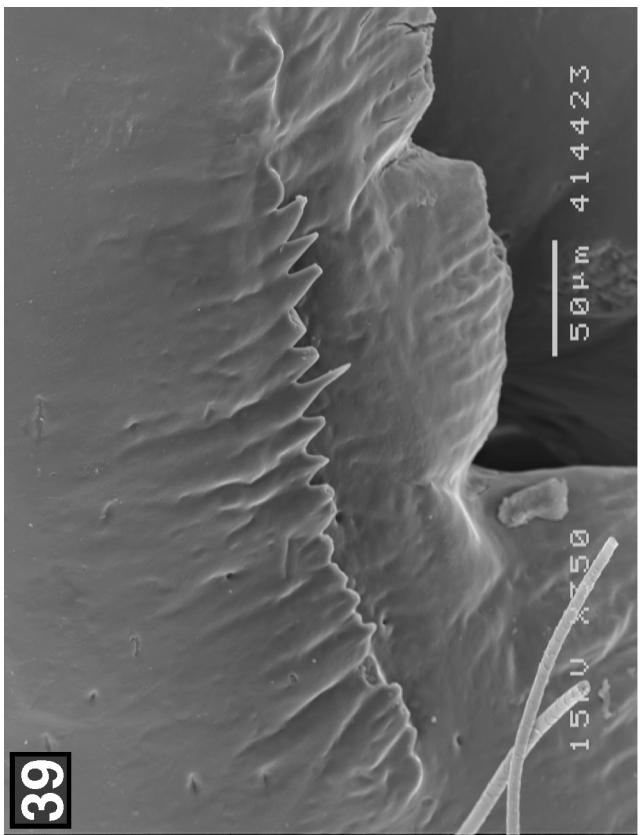

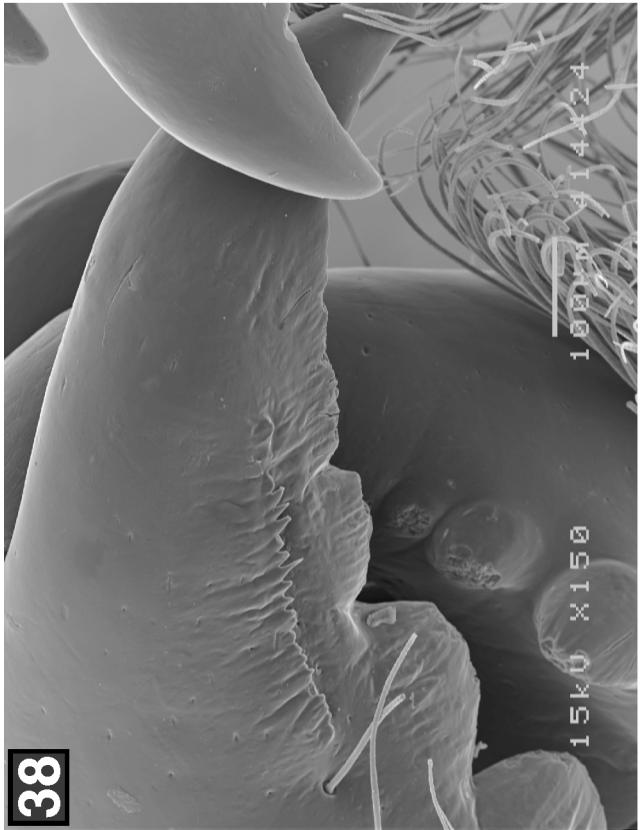

Figures 34–37: Cheliceral movable finger, ventral view, showing serrula in Smeringurus aridus, juveniles, Palo Verde Wash, ABDSP, California, USA. 34 & 35. Juvenile-1, left chelicera showing serrula with thirteen sharp or blunted tines. 36 & 37. Juvenile-2, right chelicera, showing twelve tines.

Figures 38–41: Cheliceral movable finger, ventral view, showing serrula in the genus Smiringurus. 38 & 39. Smiringurus aridus, male, Palo Verde Wash, ABDSP, California, USA, chelicera and closeup of serrula, showing 21 blunted and/or broken tines. 40 & 41. Smiringurus vachoni immanis, female, 1000 Palms, California, USA, chelicera and closeup of serrula, showing 24 times. Note the well developed setal brush on the basal three-fifths of the finger; “S” indicates serrula.